

we all have this

madness

william weaver

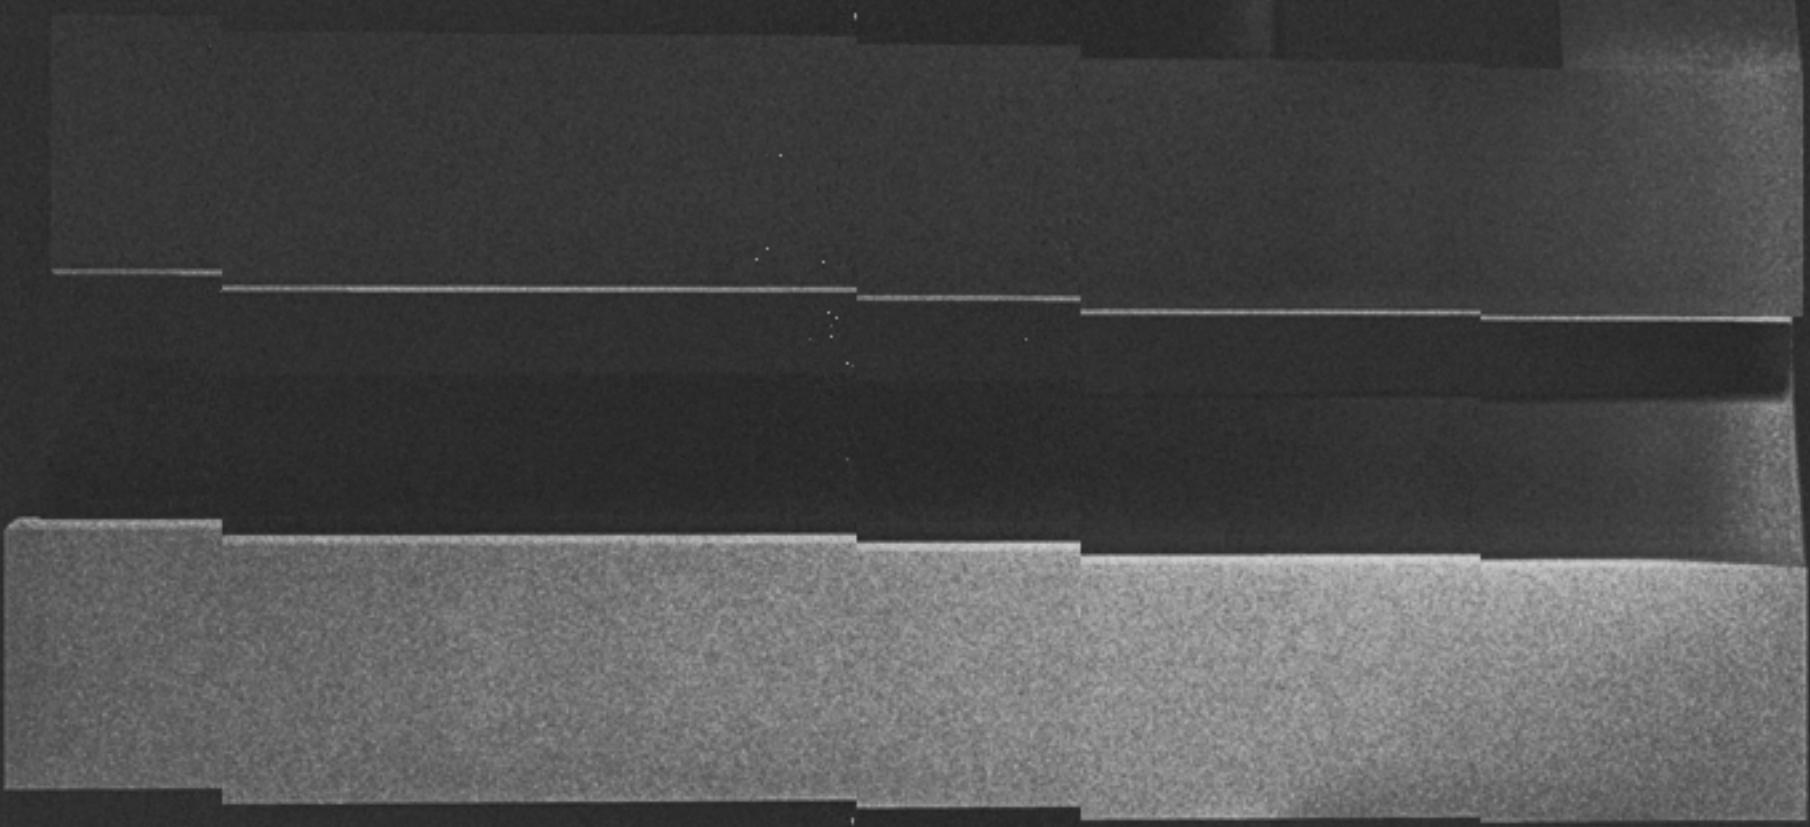

the first time I saw you, I knew you were special. I could tell by the way you looked at me, like you were trying to see through me. It was like you could see my soul. And I knew that you were the one person who could understand me. You were different from everyone else I had met. You were kind and compassionate, and you had a sense of humor that I had never seen before. I knew that you were the one person who could make me happy. I wanted to tell you how I felt, but I was too nervous. I didn't want to say anything that would scare you away. But I finally mustered up the courage to tell you how I felt. And you responded by telling me that you felt the same way. We started dating, and it was like nothing I had ever experienced before. You made me feel like I was the most important person in the world. You always made me laugh, and you always made me feel good. You were my everything. And I knew that I would never be able to live without you.
